Federal Direct Unsubsidized Loan

If you are applying for a Federal Direct Unsubsidized loan, you must first complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA), available online at <https://studentaid.gov/h/apply-for-aid/fafsa>.

Additionally, all federal loan borrowers must access <https://studentaid.gov/> to complete Entrance Counseling and a Master Promissory Note (MPN).

Please note the following:

By signing the MPN, the borrower requests a total of Federal Direct Unsubsidized loans not to exceed the allowable maximums under the Higher Education Act. However, if you request a lower amount above, our office will certify the requested amount. If the Federal Direct Unsubsidized loan amount you request is greater than your eligibility, we will certify you for your maximum allowable eligibility.

The U.S. Department of Education charges a 1.062% origination fee on Federal Direct Unsubsidized loans. There will be no interest rebate. For example, a $2,000 loan will have an origination fee of 1.062% ($21) deducted from the loan before it is disbursed. $1,979 will disburse to the school. The student borrows $1,979 and must repay $2,000. Please contact your financial aid advisor with any questions about your eligibility for unsubsidized loans.

Federal Direct Graduate PLUS Loan

All applicants must read and complete the Grad PLUS Loan Request and Credit Authorization form which is available at <https://gsas.columbia.edu/content/forms-students>.

Private student loans

For information regarding Columbia University's suggested lenders please refer to the following web page: <https://sfs.columbia.edu/financial-aid/private-loans>. Students have the right and ability to select the education loan provider of their choice, are not required to use any of the suggested lenders, and will suffer no penalty for choosing a lender that is not a suggested lender. We encourage students to explore the loan products of lenders that are not included as a suggested lender.

Satisfactory Academic Progress (continuing students only)

Federal regulations (CFR 668.34) require Columbia University to establish, publish, and apply standards of Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) for Federal Title IV financial aid eligibility. The purpose of measuring and enforcing these standards is to ensure financial aid recipients' progress toward degree completion using both qualitative and quantitative methods in accordance with federal regulations. To be eligible for financial aid (Federal Work-Study and Federal Direct/PLUS loan), students must meet or exceed these standards.

Students must adhere to both the Qualitative and Quantitative Standards, as outlined at <https://gsas.columbia.edu/content/satisfactory-academic-progress>.
